3. Visualización tabla de contenidos

The screenshot shows a website interface. On the left, a dark header contains 'CONTENTS' and an upward arrow. Below it is a table of contents with items: 'About the Book', 'Preface', 'I. Introduction', 'II. Theory, Research, and Practice', 'III. Understanding Communities', 'IV. Intervention and Prevention Strategies', 'V. Tools for Action', 'VI. Our Future', 'VII. Chapter Quizzes', 'VIII. Chapter Lecture Slides', and 'Glossary'. Each item has a plus sign on the right. An orange box on the left side of the table of contents contains the text 'Tabla de contenidos'. On the right, a dark header contains 'INTRODUCTION TO COMMUNITY PSYCHOLOGY'. Below it is the 'ABOUT THE BOOK' page, which has a title and a paragraph of text. The text reads: 'This textbook tells the story of community psychologists, who view social problems as being due to the unequal distribution of resources, which causes poverty, homelessness, unemployment, and crime. In addition, because no condition or disease has ever been eliminated by just dealing with those with the problem, community psychologists focus their work on prevention. Finally, community psychology shifts the power dynamics so that community members are equal members of the team, as they provide unique points of view about barriers that need to be overcome in working toward social justice. In a sense, this field has many similarities with community organizing, but it's different in that community psychologists have both research and action skills to evaluate whether or not our interventions actually work.' Below this is a horizontal line and another paragraph: 'This textbook is only supported on Firefox, Chrome, Safari, and Microsoft Edge. Internet Explorer is not compatible with our formatting. We thank Mark Zinn, our front end developer, for his help in uploading and formatting our content.'

4. Búsqueda dentro de la publicación

The screenshot shows a website interface. At the top right, there is a navigation bar with links: 'Home', 'Read', 'Sign in', and 'Search in book'. An orange arrow points to the 'Search in book' link, and an orange box next to it contains the text 'Barra de búsqueda'. Below the navigation bar is a dark header containing 'INTRODUCTION TO COMMUNITY PSYCHOLOGY'. The main content area is titled 'ABOUT THE BOOK' and contains the same text as in the previous screenshot. Below the text is a horizontal line and another paragraph: 'This textbook is only supported on Firefox, Chrome, Safari, and Microsoft Edge. Internet Explorer is not compatible with our formatting. We thank Mark Zinn, our front end developer, for his help in uploading and formatting our content.'
